CITY OF RIVERSIDE LAUNCHES RECOVERY ACT WEB SITE

RIVERSIDE, Calif. – Riverside residents can now see what federal stimulus dollars are coming to their neighborhoods at a new city Web site -- www.riversideca.gov/Recovery.

"I am delighted that this Web site will serve as a powerful informational tool to understand what federal recovery funding Riverside has applied for and received, and what projects are scheduled to be completed with those funds," said Mayor Ronald Loveridge. "Accountability and transparency throughout the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act funding process is top priority for the City."

The Web site offers a snapshot of funding allocated and/or received to date, news articles, and council updates.

Future updates of the Web site will include:

- How funds will be used;
- Jobs created or sustained by the funds;
- Nonfederal funding sources used to complete projects; and,
- Project and program activities.
